

SSIMS Student Selected as Millennium Fellow – Class of 2025

We are proud to share that MUYEEN NAAZ M G, a final-year MBBS student of SSIMS, has been selected as a Millennium Fellow for the Class of 2025, a prestigious global leadership program presented by the United Nations Academic Impact (UNAI) and the Millennium Campus Network (MCN).

The application process for the Class of 2025 was very competitive, with 60,000+ applicants from 7,500+ campuses across the world, 290+ campuses (just 4%) have been selected to host 4,000+ Millennium Fellows in 2025.

The Millennium Fellowship is a highly competitive initiative that brings together undergraduate leaders from campuses worldwide to advance the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Selected Fellows undergo a semester-long leadership development program, where they design and implement projects that create meaningful social impact within their communities.

MUYEEN NAAZ M G has been chosen for her outstanding commitment to academic excellence, leadership, and social responsibility. She is passionate about public health awareness, medical education, women's health, and community development

Speaking about the achievement, Muyeen Naaz said:

"Becoming a Millennium Fellow is an opportunity to connect with like-minded changemakers across the world and to contribute meaningfully towards building a healthier and more equitable future."

This milestone not only reflects her dedication but also brings pride to SSIMS, highlighting the spirit of innovation, compassion, and global engagement nurtured within the institution.

SSIMS STUDENT SELECTED AS MILLENNIUM FELLOW CLASS OF 2025

We are proud to share that MUYEEN NAAZ M G, a final-year MBBS student of SSIMS, has been selected as a Millennium Fellow for the Class of 2025, a prestigious global leadership program presented by the United Nations Academic Impact (UNAI) and the Millennium Campus Network (MCN).

The application process for the Class of 2025 was very competitive, with 60,000+ applicants from 7,500+ campuses across the world, 290+ campuses (just 4%) have been selected to host 4,000+ Millennium Fellows in 2025.

The Millennium Fellowship is a highly competitive initiative that brings together undergraduate leaders from campuses worldwide to advance the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Selected Fellows undergo a semester-long leadership development program, where they design and implement projects that create meaningful social impact within their communities.

MUYEEN NAAZ M G has been chosen for her outstanding commitment to academic excellence, leadership, and social responsibility. She is passionate about public health awareness, medical education, women's health, and community development.

Speaking about the achievement, Muyeen Naaz said: "Becoming a Millennium Fellow is an opportunity to connect with like-minded changemakers across the world and to contribute meaningfully towards building a healthier and more equitable future."

This milestone not only reflects her dedication but also brings pride to SSIMS, highlighting the spirit of innovation, compassion, and global engagement nurtured within the institution.